The Bartech Group Wins the General Motors 2006 Supplier of the Year Award

Bingham Farms, MI - On March 30, 2007, Bartech Group was one of 89 companies honored by General Motors Corporation (GM) with its highly celebrated Supplier of the Year Award at the recently held 15th Annual Awards Ceremony in Orlando, Florida.

"Each year we are pleased to share our appreciation with those suppliers who have achieved superior results and have helped GM manufacture world-class vehicles," said Bo Andersson, GM Group Vice President, Global Purchasing and Supply Chain. "We believe the Supplier of the Year honor is the most meaningful award in the industry and the winners represent those suppliers who are aligned with our vision to be the best of the best," he added.

The award recognizes the exceptional contributions of suppliers to GM's global product and performance achievements in 2006. The GM Supplier of the Year Program began in 1992, and each year a global team of purchasing, engineering, quality, manufacturing and logistics executives determine the winners. The team's decisions are based on supplier performance in the areas of quality, service, technology and price.

"We are very proud of achieving this award. GM was our first customer in 1977 and today, we are providing contingent workers to GM throughout the United States. We are very honored to celebrate this long-standing relationship with GM and look forward to many more years of delivering superior and innovative staffing solutions to GM," said Bartech Group's Chairman and CEO, Jon E. Barfield.
